

THE RALEIGH NEWS.

State

VOL. XVI.—110.

RALEIGH, N. C., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 14, 1880.

$5.00 PER ANNUM

FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS

DAILY PROCEEDINGS OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE.

Petitions on Sound Subjects Presented—The Glover Report—U. S. Marshal.

SENATE.

Several Senators presented numerous signed petitions for the appointment of Commissioner of Inquiry into the alcoholic liquor traffic. Senator Kernan presented a memorial of over 1300 individuals and firms of New York State and City, of all political parties for the withdrawal of the legal-tender quality of treasury notes.

Senator Kernan in presenting the memorial stated he believed it represented the views of the majority of the citizens of New York, and asked for the consideration it deserved.

Senator Saulsbury presented petitions of the citizens of Delaware for the same purpose.

Senator Terry announced that to save expenses of various Senators he would not ask the Senate to devote Thursday to the obsequies of the late Senator Chandler as he had intended to do but would hereafter ask that another day be set apart for that purpose.

Senator Jones, of Florida, presented a petition of the citizens of Tampa, Fla., for the improvement of the harbor at that place.

Senator Butler, of South Carolina, presented a petition of the citizens of South Carolina for the improvement of Waterway river.

Senator Saulsbury introduced a bill to preserve the secrecy of telegrams. Referred.

Senator Morrill introduced a resolution instructing the Finance Committee to inquire into the practicability of reducing any part of the national debt at a lower rate of interest than 4 per cent. Laid on the table.

The Vice-President laid before the Senate a recommendation from the Secretary of War, that the appropriation for the repair of the Confederate archives be increased by $75,000. Referred.

Senator Morrill introduced a bill for the appointment of a committee on the alcoholic liquor traffic. Referred to the Finance committee.

Adjourned.

The House Committee on Commerce listed its report, relating to the argument of G. R. Blanchard, representing the Erie Railroad in opposition to the Reagan on the Inter-State commerce bill. Blanchard took strong grounds against the positive legislation by Congress affecting the different interest involved in the same.

The Methodist of Goldsboro, we learn from the Messenger, contemplate the early erection of a new church edifice.

The European demand for our yellow rapeseed is increasing with "enormous rapidity." During last year one ton of seed was imported, while this year those of Madras, Calcutta, and other colonial seeds for girls. He has just given the Wisconsin Industrial Association forty acres of land in the vicinity of Mineral Point, his old home, to be used as permanent fair grounds. His donations to the State already would aggregate over $100,000.

says that her father suspects his son of conniving at the nihilists' plots, while the son accuses his father of dragging the Russian Imperial family down to ruin. The Emperor's mistress poisons him, and then sues him against his son. The Czarich and Czars are virtually imprisoned in the Palace. His uncle—Grand Duke Constantine—believes his own life endangered, having offended the favorite.

LATE NEWS NOTES.

The gloomy news from Kansas, is checking the exodus fever in Texas.

Vehicles of all kinds must pay a tax this year in Galveston, Tex.

Spain pays her Ministers Plenipotentiary $60,000 a year, and her favorite bull-fighter $30,000 a year.

The hat factories of Reading, Pa., are granting an advance, and are asking by the men, and the work is resuming.

Though no man could be found to give Shuelly a shilling for his "Adams" when he wrote it, a straw copy of the first edition sold for $5 a few days ago.

A nurse has been awarded $1,000 damages by a Louisville, Ky., Court for an assault made upon her by the Rev. Father Lawler, of St. Patrick's Church.

The priest compelled her by force to leave a room which she had entered to give spiritual comfort to a dying woman.

In Baltimore, on Friday, Judge Gray issued a writ of habeas corpus on the petition of Catharine Beck, who makes the shoes of the Queen of Spain, and those in charge of the St. Vincent Infant Asylum are retaining her babe, which was born there in October of last year. The Sisters at the institute say that the child is dead and buried.

Ex-governor C. C. Washburn, of Wisconsin, is a citizen worth the having. He is a member of Congress as a representative of the House and is one of the ablest Governor the State ever had.

After his retirement from office, he donated $50,000 to the State University for the erection of an astronomical observatory, which bears his name, and gave the entire country seat in the vicinity of Madison, Wis., and the school for girls.

He has just given the Wisconsin Industrial Association forty acres of land in the vicinity of Mineral Point, his old home, to be used as permanent fair grounds. His donations to the State already would aggregate over $100,000.

LATE STATE NOTES.

Spirits of turpentine is going up in Wilmington, having advanced 2 cents in one day.

There were 495 interments in Wilmington during last year—154 whites, and 341 colored.

The Methodists of Goldsboro, we learn from the Messenger, contemplate the early erection of a new church edifice.

The European demand for our yellow rapeseed is increasing with "enormous rapidity."

During last year one ton of seed was imported, while this year those of Madras, Calcutta, and other colonial seeds for girls. He has just given the Wisconsin Industrial Association forty acres of land in the vicinity of Mineral Point, his old home, to be used as permanent fair grounds. His donations to the State already would aggregate over $100,000.

LATE NATIONAL NOTES.

The House Committee on Commerce listed its report, relating to the argument of G. R. Blanchard, representing the Erie Railroad in opposition to the Reagan on the Inter-State commerce bill.

Blanchard took strong grounds against the positive legislation by Congress affecting the different interest involved in the same.

The Methodist of Goldsboro, we learn from the Messenger, contemplate the early erection of a new church edifice.

The European demand for our yellow rapeseed is increasing with "enormous rapidity."

During last year one ton of seed was imported, while this year those of Madras, Calcutta, and other colonial seeds for girls. He has just given the Wisconsin Industrial Association forty acres of land in the vicinity of Mineral Point, his old home, to be used as permanent fair grounds. His donations to the State already would aggregate over $100,000.

LATE STATE NOTES.

A young man writes to know how he shall extract himself from a very delicate situation in which he has been placed through the combined influence of his girl, the recent temperature crusade and mince pie. The young man was for many years a reckless, robbing blade, and was unfortunately continuing under the influence of liquor.

The woman's temperance crusade came along in the nick of time, however, and he took the pledge, and has since lived a life full of contentment and cold water. Not very long ago he fell in love, in love with a estimable and danned young lady on the South Side, who returned his affection, and in a short time they were engaged to be married. Last Sunday night they were sitting together on the girl's ancestral sofa, and, after the usual indulgence in cards, dancing, etc., the conversation naturally enough drifted on to mince pies, the girl saying that she had made some that very day; while the young man declared that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to sample a few of them. While eating the pie the girl had a hand made out among the other indulgences mentioned brandy. The lover thereupon said that his temperance principles would no permit him to eat any such soul-destroying brandy of pie, which remark caused the girl to dive into the pocket of the middle of the sofa and hide between the sofa and the chair, so that he never could have loved her the least bit, or he would never make fun of her pie. No expostulations would satisfy her, and the unfortunate Good Templar, and lover finally went away with the understanding that he would not eat pie again.

He naturally hates to lose the girl, her father being a hard-working man of steady habits, all of which help a newly-married pair; while on the other hand he is in love with a estimable and damed young lady on the South Side, who returned his affection, and in a short time they were engaged to be married. Last Sunday night they were sitting together on the girl's ancestral sofa, and, after the usual indulgence in cards, dancing, etc., the conversation naturally enough drifted on to mince pies, the girl saying that she had made some that very day; while the young man declared that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to sample a few of them. While eating the pie the girl had a hand made out among the other indulgences mentioned brandy. The lover thereupon said that his temperance principles would no permit him to eat any such soul-destroying brandy of pie, which remark caused the girl to dive into the pocket of the middle of the sofa and hide between the sofa and the chair, so that he never could have loved her the least bit, or he would never make fun of her pie. No expostulations would satisfy her, and the unfortunate Good Templar, and lover finally went away with the understanding that he would not eat pie again.

He naturally hates to lose the girl, her father being a hard-working man of steady habits, all of which help a newly-married pair; while on the other hand he is in love with a estimable and damed young lady on the South Side, who returned his affection, and in a short time they were engaged to be married. Last Sunday night they were sitting together on the girl's ancestral sofa, and, after the usual indulgence in cards, dancing, etc., the conversation naturally enough drifted on to mince pies, the girl saying that she had made some that very day; while the young man declared that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to sample a few of them. While eating the pie the girl had a hand made out among the other indulgences mentioned brandy. The lover thereupon said that his temperance principles would no permit him to eat any such soul-destroying brandy of pie, which remark caused the girl to dive into the pocket of the middle of the sofa and hide between the sofa and the chair, so that he never could have loved her the least bit, or he would never make fun of her pie. No expostulations would satisfy her, and the unfortunate Good Templar, and lover finally went away with the understanding that he would not eat pie again.

He naturally hates to lose the girl, her father being a hard-working man of steady habits, all of which help a newly-married pair; while on the other hand he is in love with a estimable and damed young lady on the South Side, who returned his affection, and in a short time they were engaged to be married. Last Sunday night they were sitting together on the girl's ancestral sofa, and, after the usual indulgence in cards, dancing, etc., the conversation naturally enough drifted on to mince pies, the girl saying that she had made some that very day; while the young man declared that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to sample a few of them. While eating the pie the girl had a hand made out among the other indulgences mentioned brandy. The lover thereupon said that his temperance principles would no permit him to eat any such soul-destroying brandy of pie, which remark caused the girl to dive into the pocket of the middle of the sofa and hide between the sofa and the chair, so that he never could have loved her the least bit, or he would never make fun of her pie. No expostulations would satisfy her, and the unfortunate Good Templar, and lover finally went away with the understanding that he would not eat pie again.

He naturally hates to lose the girl, her father being a hard-working man of steady habits, all of which help a newly-married pair; while on the other hand he is in love with a estimable and damed young lady on the South Side, who returned his affection, and in a short time they were engaged to be married. Last Sunday night they were sitting together on the girl's ancestral sofa, and, after the usual indulgence in cards, dancing, etc., the conversation naturally enough drifted on to mince pies, the girl saying that she had made some that very day; while the young man declared that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to sample a few of them. While eating the pie the girl had a hand made out among the other indulgences mentioned brandy. The lover thereupon said that his temperance principles would no permit him to eat any such soul-destroying brandy of pie, which remark caused the girl to dive into the pocket of the middle of the sofa and hide between the sofa and the chair, so that he never could have loved her the least bit, or he would never make fun of her pie. No expostulations would satisfy her, and the unfortunate Good Templar, and lover finally went away with the understanding that he would not eat pie again.

He naturally hates to lose the girl, her father being a hard-working man of steady habits, all of which help a newly-married pair; while on the other hand he is in love with a estimable and damed young lady on the South Side, who returned his affection, and in a short time they were engaged to be married. Last Sunday night they were sitting together on the girl's ancestral sofa, and, after the usual indulgence in cards, dancing, etc., the conversation naturally enough drifted on to mince pies, the girl saying that she had made some that very day; while the young man declared that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to sample a few of them. While eating the pie the girl had a hand made out among the other indulgences mentioned brandy. The lover thereupon said that his temperance principles would no permit him to eat any such soul-destroying brandy of pie, which remark caused the girl to dive into the pocket of the middle of the sofa and hide between the sofa and the chair, so that he never could have loved her the least bit, or he would never make fun of her pie. No expostulations would satisfy her, and the unfortunate Good Templar, and lover finally went away with the understanding that he would not eat pie again.

He naturally hates to lose the girl, her father being a hard-working man of steady habits, all of which help a newly-married pair; while on the other hand he is in love with a estimable and damed young lady on the South Side, who returned his affection, and in a short time they were engaged to be married. Last Sunday night they were sitting together on the girl's ancestral sofa, and, after the usual indulgence in cards, dancing, etc., the conversation naturally enough drifted on to mince pies, the girl saying that she had made some that very day; while the young man declared that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to sample a few of them. While eating the pie the girl had a hand made out among the other indulgences mentioned brandy. The lover thereupon said that his temperance principles would no permit him to eat any such soul-destroying brandy of pie, which remark caused the girl to dive into the pocket of the middle of the sofa and hide between the sofa and the chair, so that he never could have loved her the least bit, or he would never make fun of her pie. No expostulations would satisfy her, and the unfortunate Good Templar, and lover finally went away with the understanding that he would not eat pie again.

He naturally hates to lose the girl, her father being a hard-working man of steady habits, all of which help a newly-married pair; while on the other hand he is in love with a estimable and damed young lady on the South Side, who returned his affection, and in a short time they were engaged to be married. Last Sunday night they were sitting together on the girl's ancestral sofa, and, after the usual indulgence in cards, dancing, etc., the conversation naturally enough drifted on to mince pies, the girl saying that she had made some that very day; while the young man declared that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to sample a few of them. While eating the pie the girl had a hand made out among the other indulgences mentioned brandy. The lover thereupon said that his temperance principles would no permit him to eat any such soul-destroying brandy of pie, which remark caused the girl to dive into the pocket of the middle of the sofa and hide between the sofa and the chair, so that he never could have loved her the least bit, or he would never make fun of her pie. No expostulations would satisfy her, and the unfortunate Good Templar, and lover finally went away with the understanding that he would not eat pie again.

He naturally hates to lose the girl, her father being a hard-working man of steady habits, all of which help a newly-married pair; while on the other hand he is in love with a estimable and damed young lady on the South Side, who returned his affection, and in a short time they were engaged to be married. Last Sunday night they were sitting together on the girl's ancestral sofa, and, after the usual indulgence in cards, dancing, etc., the conversation naturally enough drifted on to mince pies, the girl saying that she had made some that very day; while the young man declared that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to sample a few of them. While eating the pie the girl had a hand made out among the other indulgences mentioned brandy. The lover thereupon said that his temperance principles would no permit him to eat any such soul-destroying brandy of pie, which remark caused the girl to dive into the pocket of the middle of the sofa and hide between the sofa and the chair, so that he never could have loved her the least bit, or he would never make fun of her pie. No expostulations would satisfy her, and the unfortunate Good Templar, and lover finally went away with the understanding that he would not eat pie again.

He naturally hates to lose the girl, her father being a hard-working man of steady habits, all of which help a newly-married pair; while on the other hand he is in love with a estimable and damed young lady on the South Side, who returned his affection, and in a short time they were engaged to be married. Last Sunday night they were sitting together on the girl's ancestral sofa, and, after the usual indulgence in cards, dancing, etc., the conversation naturally enough drifted on to mince pies, the girl saying that she had made some that very day; while the young man declared that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to sample a few of them. While eating the pie the girl had a hand made out among the other indulgences mentioned brandy. The lover thereupon said that his temperance principles would no permit him to eat any such soul-destroying brandy of pie, which remark caused the girl to dive into the pocket of the middle of the sofa and hide between the sofa and the chair, so that he never could have loved her the least bit, or he would never make fun of her pie. No expostulations would satisfy her, and the unfortunate Good Templar, and lover finally went away with the understanding that he would not eat pie again.

He naturally hates to lose the girl, her father being a hard-working man of steady habits, all of which help a newly-married pair; while on the other hand he is in love with a estimable and damed young lady on the South Side, who returned his affection, and in a short time they were engaged to be married. Last Sunday night they were sitting together on the girl's ancestral sofa, and, after the usual indulgence in cards, dancing, etc., the conversation naturally enough drifted on to mince pies, the girl saying that she had made some that very day; while the young man declared that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to sample a few of them. While eating the pie the girl had a hand made out among the other indulgences mentioned brandy. The lover thereupon said that his temperance principles would no permit him to eat any such soul-destroying brandy of pie, which remark caused the girl to dive into the pocket of the middle of the sofa and hide between the sofa and the chair, so that he never could have loved her the least bit, or he would never make fun of her pie. No expostulations would satisfy her, and the unfortunate Good Templar, and lover finally went away with the understanding that he would not eat pie again.

He naturally hates to lose the girl, her father being a hard-working man of steady habits, all of which help a newly-married pair; while on the other hand he is in love with a estimable and damed young lady on the South Side, who returned his affection, and in a short time they were engaged to be married. Last Sunday night they were sitting together on the girl's ancestral sofa, and, after the usual indulgence in cards, dancing, etc., the conversation naturally enough drifted on to mince pies, the girl saying that she had made some that very day; while the young man declared that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to sample a few of them. While eating the pie the girl had a hand made out among the other indulgences mentioned brandy. The lover thereupon said that his temperance principles would no permit him to eat any such soul-destroying brandy of pie, which remark caused the girl to dive into the pocket of the middle of the sofa and hide between the sofa and the chair, so that he never could have loved her the least bit, or he would never make fun of her pie. No expostulations would satisfy her, and the unfortunate Good Templar, and lover finally went away with the understanding that he would not eat pie again.

He naturally hates to lose the girl, her father being a hard-working man of steady habits, all of which help a newly-married pair; while on the other hand he is in love with a estimable and damed young lady on the South Side, who returned his affection, and in a short time they were engaged to be married. Last Sunday night they were sitting together on the girl's ancestral sofa, and, after the usual indulgence in cards, dancing, etc., the conversation naturally enough drifted on to mince pies, the girl saying that she had made some that very day; while the young man declared that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to sample a few of them. While eating the pie the girl had a hand made out among the other indulgences mentioned brandy. The lover thereupon said that his temperance principles would no permit him to eat any such soul-destroying brandy of pie, which remark caused the girl to dive into the pocket of the middle of the sofa and hide between the sofa and the chair, so that he never could have loved her the least bit, or he would never make fun of her pie. No expostulations would satisfy her, and the unfortunate Good Templar, and lover finally went away with the understanding that he would not eat pie again.

He naturally hates to lose the girl, her father being a hard-working man of steady habits, all of which help a newly-married pair; while on the other hand he is in love with a estimable and damed young lady on the South Side, who returned his affection, and in a short time they were engaged to be married. Last Sunday night they were sitting together on the girl's ancestral sofa, and, after the usual indulgence in cards, dancing, etc., the conversation naturally enough drifted on to mince pies, the girl saying that she had made some that very day; while the young man declared that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to sample a few of them. While eating the pie the girl had a hand made out among the other indulgences mentioned brandy. The lover thereupon said that his temperance principles would no permit him to eat any such soul-destroying brandy of pie, which remark caused the girl to dive into the pocket of the middle of the sofa and hide between the sofa and the chair, so that he never could have loved her the least bit, or he would never make fun of her pie. No expostulations would satisfy her, and the unfortunate Good Templar, and lover finally went away with the understanding that he would not eat pie again.

He naturally hates to lose the girl, her father being a hard-working man of steady habits, all of which help a newly-married pair; while on the other hand he is in love with a estimable and damed young lady on the South Side, who returned his affection, and in a short time they were engaged to be married. Last Sunday night they were sitting together on the girl's ancestral sofa, and, after the usual indulgence in cards, dancing, etc., the conversation naturally enough drifted on to mince pies, the girl saying that she had made some that very day; while the young man declared that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to sample a few of them. While eating the pie the girl had a hand made out among the other indulgences mentioned brandy. The lover thereupon said that his temperance principles would no permit him to eat any such soul-destroying brandy of pie, which remark caused the girl to dive into the pocket of the middle of the sofa and hide between the sofa and the chair, so that he never could have loved her the least bit, or he would never make fun of her pie. No expostulations would satisfy her, and the unfortunate Good Templar, and lover finally went away with the understanding that he would not eat pie again.

He naturally hates to lose the girl, her father

DAILY NEWS

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 14, 1859.

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

THE Mobile Register states that the entire Democratic press of Alabama, except the Montgomery Advertiser and Selma Argus, sustains Senator Bayard in his financial opinions.

REPUBLICAN politicians may as well remember says the Springfield Republican, that if Grant is nominated the anti-Grant boom will be a good deal bigger than the Democratic party, and the Grant boom is a good deal smaller than the Republican party the result might be unpleasant to Republican politicians.

POLITICAL parties in Texas are preparing for a vigorous canvas. The hard money Republicans, led by Judge Norton, have patched up a truce with the soft money Republicans and Greenbackers led by ex-Governor Davis, thereby hoping to secure success. All these factions are for Grant.

Well, this is about as far from a hope as could well be entertained. As the Democratic majority of that State ranges from 30,000 to 75,000, this combined opposition must secure a most prodigious following to overcome these figures.

The Charlotte Observer of the 11th instant, proposes the name of Horatio Seymour, for President, and Wm. H. English, of Indiana, for vice-President and in support of this ticket says, editorially:

"With this ticket the Democracy of the nation can win, because it will deserve to win. Both men are congenitally free of political meanness; they have not been born to enter the political arena, and are born ready to practice. A daughter of General Woodford, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was so greatly delighted so greatly that Mrs. Woodford to testify her gratitude, induced Signora Dali Cin to come to America to help those who might be unable to go to Italy for treatment, and although she has been here but a short time, she has effected some remarkable cures.

Compromise of a $20,000 Suit.

Charlotte observer, Jan. 11th.

In the Superior Court of Davidson county, held during the past week at Lexington by Judge Schenck, a suit of conspiracy to destroy the reputation of the State on account of the prominence of the parties thereto, was compromised. Miss Hilliard, of that town, brought suit against Mr. Alfred F. Hargrave for seduction. Some time ago, she alleged in the complaint, she left home with young Hargrave, ex-soldier, to marry him, and came to Virginia. From that point they went to Baltimore and thence out West, and were never married. In one of the western cities he deserted her, leaving her in a strange place without means of support. She finally, by the aid of friends, got back to New York, and Hargrave subsequently returning also, she brought suit as above described for $20,000. The terms of the compromise have not as yet been made public.

Compromised Abandoned by the Government.

Washington, January 9.—A noble protest was entered by District Attorney Wells to-day to the twenty-six indictments against John W. Wright, late Agent of the Cherokee Indians, for forfeitures of the State on account of the prominence of the parties thereto, was compromised. Miss Hilliard, of that town, brought suit against Mr. Alfred F. Hargrave for seduction. Some time ago, she alleged in the complaint, she left home with young Hargrave, ex-soldier, to marry him, and came to Virginia. From that point they went to Baltimore and thence out West, and were never married. In one of the western cities he deserted her, leaving her in a strange place without means of support. She finally, by the aid of friends, got back to New York, and Hargrave subsequently returning also, she brought suit as above described for $20,000. The terms of the compromise have not as yet been made public.

Convention of Doctors.

Charlotte observer, Jan. 11th.

Dr. J. R. McCorkle, a very well known practitioner of Mooresville, and one of the physicians of the surrounding country, has been in the contiguous portions of Rowan, Caldwell, Mecklenburg and Catawba, to meet in Mooresville on the 3rd of this month for the purpose of performing a medical association, the object of which shall be the elevation of their corporation, to discuss the nature of diseases, their diagnosis and treatment, and introduce other features in the organization tending to mutual benefit and profit.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Indiana Democrats will hold their State Convention June 8th.

"Wherever will study the interests of New York," says Horatio Seymour, "cannot fail to see that it must be a Democratic State, despite the follies or errors of the leading men of that party."

All Albany Republicans do not think alike. There are three clubs in that city, one for Grant, one opposing him, and one pledged to support the nominees of the Chicago Convention, whoever it may be.

The Philadelphia Times says: "If Congress desires to make itself solid with the country it will get down to work on the appropriation bills as promptly as possible, and begin to think of adjournment some time before the Fourth of July."

A report having reached the St. Louis Post that Mr. Tilden, abandoning all hopes of nominating himself, was bending all his energies to defeat Bayard, says: "Mr. Tilden may find it to his interest some of these days to attend to his own business."

Sherman's Monuments.

Cincinnati Commercial.

There is a story current in Washington with which the friends of General Sherman are not pleased. The story runs that when Grant passed through Columbia, S. C., on the other day, Judge Mayes, in the course of his speech, pointed out objects of interest. Pointing to some blackened chimneys, he said: "Those are General Sherman's monuments in this part of the country," and continued, "I am glad, General Grant, that you have such a number." "General Grant," I do not believe in making war on women and children and vacant houses. During the war I ordered one building destroyed, other than public buildings, and that was a hotel in Mississippi where my men were refused drink of water."

Eclipses of 1859.

During the present year there will be six eclipses—four of the sun and two of the moon.

A total eclipse of the sun, Jan. 11, invisible in the eastern portion of the United States. The partial and total phases may be visible, though under unfavorable conditions, in the Pacific, South, and Ganges regions.

A total eclipse of the moon, June 22, invisible in the eastern portion of the United States. Observers on the Pacific coast may see the eclipse for about half an hour before the moon sets.

An annular eclipse of the sun July 7, invisible in the eastern portion of North America. It will be visible in South America and the southern part of Africa.

A partial eclipse of the sun, Dec. 1, visible only in the southern hemisphere.

A total eclipse of the moon, Dec. 16, visible in the eastern portion of the United States, but some of its phases visible on the Pacific coast.

A partial eclipse of the sun, Dec. 31, visible in the eastern portion of the United States and at Chicago, from 6:15 to 7:45 in the morning.

Famous Woman Surgeon.

Boston Herald.

Signora Dali Cin was born in northern Italy in 1810. Her mother was a bone-setter of some repute among the peasants, and early gave her daughter instructions in her art. From the fact that when nine years old she set her mother's broken leg properly, and also performed many other operations, it is evident that under her mother's direction, we may conclude that she was an apt pupil. Not long after this she was admitted to study in the hospital of Anzano, and there she acquired the wonderful dexterity of hands which possessed her, so that, to practice, it was not long before she outran the line of the doctors by saving a leg which they said should be amputated, and was brought into court charged with not having a license. She made her limb fit when she had no tools, and was soon exonerated, and received a stipend. She then turned her attention to replacing dislocated thigh bones, one of the most difficult and painful operations in surgery, said by Nestor to be greater than the great scrotalorrhaphy. She soon succeeded in performing the operation without pain to the patient, and this even in luxations of twenty-seven years, and for all immediate periods. Considering the number and variety of these cases, many of them congenital, usually those which have been pronounced hopeless by eminent American and European surgeons, the results are truly wonderful. She is said to be uniformly successful, whatever she undertakes, and, moreover, is obliged to turn many applicants away.

Particularly when tendons have been cut, or surgical operations performed. In all cases her verdict is rendered immediately after examination, which is free. As an example of her skill we may cite the fact that in Trieste she performed a total hysterectomy in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from the Royal government of Trieste, dated 1849, and which certifies that she has practiced successfully in twenty days, many of them in the presence of physicians whose confidence and good will she has gained, as indicated by the diploma which she now holds from

DAILY NEWS

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 14, - - 1880.

Entered at the Postoffice at Raleigh, N. C. as second-class matter

Weather Report.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.
For South Atlantic States, rising barometer; northerly back to warmer, west and south winds, clear or partly cloudy weather.

Index to New Advertisements.

J. P. HAYES—Local notice.
J. R. NEATHERLY—Local notice.
J. R. HARRIS—Local notice.
JOHN & WIGGS—Groceries.
L. R. WYATT—Groceries.
J. B. NEATHERLY—For sale.
DR. BULL—Local notice.
I. R. PRICE—Local notice.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Revenue collections yesterday $359.53.

Dr. Pritchard was in our city yesterday.

Overcoats were in good demand yesterday.

No marriage licenses were issued yesterday.

There were fair indications of snow yesterday.

Don't forget the concert at Person Street Church to-morrow night.

There were $25,000 of old bonds surrendered for exchange yesterday.

Wesley Whitaker has been appointed Justice of the Peace vice Wm. Briggs, resigned.

Moved in Hillsboro, on the 7th, by Rev. Mr. Fingerson, T. C. Wootton and Miss Ida P. Parish.

The Young Men's Christian Association held their regular monthly meeting last night at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. James P. Hayes narrowly escaped a serious conflagration in his ware rooms on Hargett street yesterday.

Married, in Oxford, on the 9th inst., by the Rev. Mr. Vaughan, T. C. Joyner and Miss Mittie Lynch, of Oxford.

There will be a meeting of Thompson's Silver Cornet Band to-night. All the members are requested to attend.

The streets are getting in a dangerous condition—in some places it is dangerous for those whose avocations demand them out after tea.

The residence of Mr. Jno. M. Harris, on Martin street, near being burned on Mon lay night, through the explosion of a lamp.

The Superior Court continued in session until a late hour Monday night over a case of slander between two colored individuals.

Col. A. W. Shaffer leaves for Albany, New York, this morning, to attend the funeral services of his father, who died suddenly.

Died suddenly at Albany, New York, Mr. Daniel L. Shaffer, the father of Col. A. W. Shaffer, of this city, at the advanced age of 83 years.

Narrow and medium widths, Hamburg Edgings, a large assortment just received at Yeargan, Petty & Co's. Also mourning handkerchiefs.

The little urchin who was accidentally shot with a pistol on Christmas day, on New Bern street, is in a critical condition and not expected to live.

The Sheriff of Person county, Mr. J. C. Barrett, handed in his State taxes for 1879 yesterday amounting to $3,229.88. Also Sheriff Wicker of Moore, amounting to $3,822.47.

Died—Mrs. Caroline Whitaker, residing about six miles south of this city, at 5 o'clock on Monday evening of heart disease. She leaves a husband and five children, besides many friends to mourn her death.

New Berne, or rather the Not Shell, to-day disgruntled about a "bleeding Irishman," the Mayor endeavored but failed to drive out of town. The "ball and chain" might have a very salutary effect upon this irrepressible imp.

Mr. L. R. Wyatt, a merchant of long experience in the grocery, cotton and commission business in this city, has an attractive new advertisement in the News this morning. He has been much engaged in business in Raleigh for the past ten years, and is every way a good man to deal with.

Mr. H. H. Roberts is prepared to attend to all kinds of writing, such as copying, posting books, making out bills and collecting the same upon reasonable terms. Any orders left at F. H. Heart's Drug Store or addressed to H. H. Roberts, P. O. Box 414 will receive prompt attention.

We direct the reader's attention to the new advertisement of Messrs. Johnson & Wiggs, well known wholesale grocers and cotton commission merchants on Wilmington street. These gentlemen have each a popular reputation in Wake and adjoining counties, and supply a large and increasing trade in this section. They will engage in the fertilizer business this season and are now making arrangements to handle one of the leading brands.

Never Escape.

The store of Mr. Jos. P. Hayes came near being burnt on yesterday. The story in his office was that the plastering and its heat set fire to the work and when discovered was burning rapidly. Its timely discovery saved the building from destruction.

Books Received To-Day.

"Cesar," by James Anthony Froude, $2.50.

"Destruction," By General Taylor, $2.00.

"Figs and Thistles," by A. W. Tourgee, $1.00.

"Fool's Errand," by one of the Fools, $1.00.

Sold by Alfred Williams & Co.

Dr. Bobbitt and Trinity College.

We are informed that Dr. J. B. Bobbitt is doing good work for Trinity College. On last Sabbath he preached in the A. E. Church at New Berne, presented the Sabbath school of the church in the afternoon and interested the entire school in behalf of Trinity, and on Monday afternoon organized a Ladies' Aid Society of about thirty members. The doctor is pushing his schools and ladies at work for the College, and his earnest appeals to the friends of education, the debt of the college will, in all probability, be paid. We wish him and the enterprise he represents great success.

For the Holidays.

Brewster has just filled his store, especially for the season. Stop and examine his stock of fancy goods, toilet and cologne sets, vases, majolica we re teles a sets, toy tea sets, silver and fine plated ware. If you wish to make a nice present, we advise you to call on Brewster.

The Truth.

In the whole United States there is not a florist equal to that so valuable and artistic as that of Mrs. Kearney. The quality of the materials used in the manufacture of the most delicate, desirable, and delicate flavored cakes, pastry, ice cream, etc., as Dr. Price's justly celebrated Special Flavoring Extracts.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

NATIONAL HOTEL—S. R. Street & Son Proprietors.

W A Harris, Norfolk; Wm W Clark, James L Street, New Berne; Jas A Duncan, N Y; Alex McIver, Greenboro; Reid & Whitford, Kinston; Dr T H Pritchard, T. H. Pritchard, Jr., Farnham, T. H. Pritchard, Wake Forest College; W A Berry, Winston; Charles J Huske, Morganton; John M More, N C; Robert Garner, G F Knott, Oxford; H P Williams, Florida; Sid Holloman, Weldon; Tom Allen, Sanford.

YARBORO HOTEL—G. W. Blacknall, Proprietor.

R. M. Nelson, Baltimore; Hon. Geo. B. Howard, Tarboro; John M. Wilson, Wilson's Mills; W A Jeffries, Wake; S R Jeffries, A D Fleming, Wake; J C Barnett, Roxboro; J A Leake, John D Leake, Winston-Salem; L. L. Ladd, T. J. McMill, Rockingham; F. H. Taylor, N. C.; W S Roush, Durham; Ed Gainsworth, Goldsboro; B De L. Moses, Norfolk; J M Rhodes, Baltimore; Bob Tate, Danphino; J B Harris, Wilmington; H T Thrasher, C. C. Borden, H. T. Thrasher, Goldsboro; H. B. C. Strickwick, W C Jones, Hillsboro; W T Doritch, Jr., Goldsboro; H P Jones, Hillsboro; King, Goldsboro; J James Spicer, Goldsboro; J C Webb, Hillsboro; W C Page, Selma; S C Graham, Hillsboro; H Burt, S C Chavis, Tacy, Mauch Chunk, Pa; R Burton, Hill, Halifax; Chas F. Holloman, Wake; T J Wilson, Chas F. Holloman, Hillsboro; Ge Wilecox, Durham; P H Haughton, New York; S H Tacy, Mauch Chunk, Pa; R Burton, Hill, Halifax; J D Guillow, Massachusetts; J M McCull Ellington, Apex.

KNIFE.

Grand, Square and Upright Piano Fortes.

These instruments have been before the public for near fifty years, and upon their introduction, were considered as the standard of pre-eminence, which establishes them as unequalled in tone, touch, workmanship and durability. Call and examine for a few days at No. 20, opposite Tucker Hall. Every piano fully warranted for five years.

J. H. BENNETT, Agent.

Neuralgine.

This is not a KING CURE-ALL. But is only good for Neuralgia and Headache. For these troubles it is the only specific known. Sold by all the leading drug-gists.

Ale, Porter and Mineral Waters.

My facilities for the delivery of the above in bottles or kegs are superior to any in the State. Prices as low as the lowest. Country orders solicited.

M. BILLS, Raleigh, N. C.

City Bottling Works,

Don't Trifle With the Teeth!

If our teeth were renewed as our nails, they might not need constant care. But teeth don't renew themselves as often as children. The proper thing to do is to use Sozonoxx, which preserves their health and beauty. It never fails.

What Physicians at Home and Abroad Advise.

Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Anemia, Nervous and Muscular Debility, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dysmenorrhea, Menstruation, Anorexia, Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and such other organic or functional disturbances, I know of no remedy upon which I can rely with more certainty of satisfactory results than the "Seven Springs Mass."

W. F. BARR, M. D., Abingdon, Va.

New York City.

I have found no one single remedy to yield such satisfactory results as the "Seven Springs Mass." In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhea, Anemia, Chlorosis, and for Chronic Eczema, I find it invaluable, associated with appropriate topical treatment.

GEO. T. HARRISON, M. D., New York City.

From my experience with the iron and alum mass, I believe it will prove the best medicine we have in use, for chronic diseases.

G. M. D. PATTERSON, M. D., Eaglewood, Texas.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the Bladder, Leucorrhœa, etc., etc., the "Seven Springs Mass" seems to act with almost specific effect.

E. O. GRISBY, Deveaux, Ark.

We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application. The reputation of the "Seven Springs" is well known to every one who is familiar with its character, and its effects upon the kidneys, bladder and such other organic or functional disturbances, I know of no remedy upon which I can rely with more certainty of satisfactory results than the "Seven Springs Mass."

W. F. BARR, M. D., Abingdon, Va.

For Sale.

Two splendid gray horses, one fine blooded mare and two 2-horse wagons and harness. Also the ware house now occupied by me—all on good terms.

JOB OSBORN.

Wanted.

Sherman & Co., Marshall, Mich., want an agent in this country at once, at a salary of $100 per month and expenses paid. For full particular address as above.

JOY D&W.

Good Living.

The secret of good living is of vast importance to all mankind. Every good liver knows this—but when the liver is bad, then take Rosalid, the great Southern Remedy, and Mott's Liver Pills. They are sure to restore you to health.

JOSEPH D&W.

Vigor of Mind and Body.

Every person would have more vigor of mind and body, if he would eat the well known diet of unbolted wheat flour. Mix with the flour dry, Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, stir in pure water, from a soft batter, bake in gins or biscuits, and the result will be the most nutritious article of food that can be made.

H. H. ROBERTS.

There has never been a Baking Powder placed upon the market in this country that has effected such a revolution as Patapaco Baking Powder. It is patented article. There are many base imitations. Be sure to ask for and get Patapaco.

Never Escape.

The store of Mr. Jos. P. Hayes came near being burnt on yesterday. The story in his office was that the plastering and its heat set fire to the work and when discovered was burning rapidly. Its timely discovery saved the building from destruction.

Books Received To-Day.

"Cesar," by James Anthony Froude, $2.50.

"Destruction," By General Taylor, $2.00.

"Figs and Thistles," by A. W. Tourgee, $1.00.

"Fool's Errand," by one of the Fools, $1.00.

Sold by Alfred Williams & Co.

Dr. Bobbitt and Trinity College.

We are informed that Dr. J. B. Bobbitt is doing good work for Trinity College. On last Sabbath he preached in the A. E. Church at New Berne, presented the Sabbath school of the church in the afternoon and interested the entire school in behalf of Trinity, and on Monday afternoon organized a Ladies' Aid Society of about thirty members. The doctor is pushing his schools and ladies at work for the College, and his earnest appeals to the friends of education, the debt of the college will, in all probability, be paid. We wish him and the enterprise he represents great success.

For the Holidays.

Brewster has just filled his store, especially for the season. Stop and examine his stock of fancy goods, toilet and cologne sets, vases, majolica we re teles a sets, toy tea sets, silver and fine plated ware. If you wish to make a nice present, we advise you to call on Brewster.

The Truth.

In the whole United States there is not a florist equal to that so valuable and artistic as that of Mrs. Kearney. The quality of the materials used in the manufacture of the most delicate, desirable, and delicate flavored cakes, pastry, ice cream, etc., as Dr. Price's justly celebrated Special Flavoring Extracts.

GIVEN UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

The following letter from one of our well known druggists will show the estimation in which Mrs. Person's Remedy for Scrofula and Tonic Bitter is held in this community:

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 3d, 1880.

MRS. JOE PERSON, Franklin, N. C.

MADAM—Please send me 3 dozen more of your Scrofula and Tonic Bitter, as soon as possible. I have only one bottle of the 6 dozen purchased of you before. It gives me pleasure to state that your Remedy has given universal satisfaction to those whom I have sold it, and from what I know personally of its alternative and curative properties, it merits all you claim for it.

Very respectfully,

W. M. SIMPSON.

The medicine can be obtained in Raleigh from Mr. Simpson, F. H. Hearst and Pescud, Lee & Co. Persons desiring to see testimonials of cures can obtain circulars by application to them or Mrs. Person.

Distance Leads Enchantment!

Mrs. Mad had a fine figure, good face and pretty name. One should see her at a distance. When she began to talk, you realized that she never used Sozonoxx. Her beauty was unlike the breezes of Araby the blest.

Cypress Shingles

cheaper than ever before offered in Raleigh for sale by Jones, Green & Powell.

For Sale.

Five new whisky stills, in good order, for sale cheap at

JAMES P. HAYES.

Wanted.